the Force Bill.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, Va., October 6.—The sampaign in this county was opened today by both parties, it being the regular monthly term of the County Court, A large number were present, especially Democrats, who turned out in full force, and were exceedingly enthusiastic. Four speakers were present—Judge Waddill and Mr. Bayly Browns, the Republican orators, and Judge H. W. Flournoy and Lloyd T. Smith, the Democratic speakers. It was some time before terms could be agreed upon, which however, was finally settled by Judge Waddill leading off in a speech of forty-five minutes followed by Mr. Smith in an hour's speech, Mr. Browne replying in forty-five minutes, and Judge Flournov closing in thirty minutes. EVERY WRITE MAN.

The Democrats loudly cheered their speakers as they poured hot shot into the Republican party and their representatives for the many deeds enacted in the present Congress which were detrimental and degrading to the South, and which should at least make every southern and white man vote the Democratic ticket. The day was indeed a field one for Democracy who are thoroughly aroused and will give an increased majority for our nominees. DODGER DAYLEY TAME.

The speech of Mr. Browne was exceedingly tame and he wanted to explain himself on the force bill and the Langston case, both of which he was taunted with by Mr. Smith and Judge Flournov. To the surprise of many Judge Waddill when called upon to explain his position on the force bill said he voted for it and supported it and that it should be adopted, which it would be at the next Congress, because it would ensure fair elections, which could not be obtained under Democratic rule.

He was cheered by his political asso-mates, but a great mass of the people and even some of his own friends hissed him, instead of his speech arousing enthusiasm, it is claimed that the position he took on the force bill has done the Republican It is claimed that the position he took on the force bill has done the Republican party barm and will not only cause the Democrats to be more thoroughly aroused, but insure victory. Both Judge Flournoy and Mr. Smith delivered able addresses, which were earnestly and attentively listened to and which will do much good.

PETERSBURG, VA., October 6.—The attendance at Greensville court to-day was very large, hundreds of people being attracted by the announcement that the day would be mainly given to political sueaking. The Democratic meeting was one of the largest ever held in the county, and was characterized by unbounded enthusiasm and the utmost good feeling. Mr. E. C. Venable spoke for an hour and a half, giving an able, exhansitive, and caustic regiving an able, exhaustive, and caustic re-view of the Republican legislation in Con-gress. He struck the keynote of the cam-paign in the district by his declarations on the color-line which the negroes have so effectually drawn. Mr. Venable was fre-quently interrupted by tumultuous ap-

Mr. James F. Epes, the Democratic candidate for Congress, followed Mr. Veneble in an eloquent and captivating speech. He discussed the force bill, the outrages perpetrated by the Republican majority in unseating legally elected Democratic members, paid his respects to the tariff bill, and appealed to the Democratic for the sake of the white people of the district, for the sake of honest government, and their own peace and welfare to do their daty.

AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE. Feeble Attempt to Get Votes in the

Fifth District-Successful Tobacco Year. (Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)
Danyille, Va., October 6.—S. C. Adams, who has for several years past figured in Pittsylvania county as a Prohibitionist, is out in a card announcing himself as an independent candidate for Congress for this listrict. He says he is not running as a Prohibitionist, but is running entirely on an independent platform, and will be glad of any votes he may receive. His candidacy will not amount to much. ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Tobacco Association was held to-day. P. C. Venable was elected president; J. G. Fenn, vice-president, and J. S. Bendall, supervisor. The president in his annual report says that the average price of last year's crop was $13.22, the highest average made since tests.

A NEW TERRITORY.

He speaks in flattering terms of the new crop and predicts a most successful year for the Danville market. He calls attention to the fact that a new tobacco territory has been opened up to Danville, and believes that its sales for the new year will be as large in the aggregate as those of any year in the past.

Tobacco has been rushing in all day from the country and the indications are that the sales will be very heavy during the week.

Senator Stubbs and Mr. Hathaway Address the People of Richmond County.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch)
Warsaw, Va. via Fundentorsburne, October 6.—To-day was the grandest Democratic rally witnessed at this place for many a long day. The cont-house was filled to its utmost capacity in spite of the inclement weather, a large crowd of ladies being present. The meeting was address-by Howard Hathaway, Esq., of Lancaster, and Senator James N. Stubbs, of Gloucester, who made elegant and eloquent speeches, full of wit and good sense, which were listened to with marked attention. The crowd was wild with enthusiasm from the beginning, and sheered the speakers throughout, and often they had to pause for several minutes, as the people were in (Special telegram to the Dispatch.) r several minutes, as the people were in ach high spirits.

UNANIMOUS FOR JONES.

At the close of Mr. Stubbs's speech he said he wanted those of his audience who favored the election of Mr. Jones, to say yes, to which the audience velled with one voice. "Yes, yes, yes." He said all opposed would say no, to which two negroes sione voted. The Democrats are jubilant and are confident of electing their standard-hearer, W. A. Jones. The meeting was a success in every particular.

G pecial telegram to the Dispatch.)
GLOUCESTER C. H., VA., October 6.—There was a large crowd here to-day, the courthouse being packed to hear Mr. Jones. Mr. J. M. Stubbs was allowed to speak first. His speech was similar to the one made at King and Queen Courthouse. He demounced the Republican office-holders and the leading local politicians in the plainest terms. The Republicans were greatly disgusted. They say Stubbs is sustained by the Democrats and that his performance here to-day will cost the Democrats twenty-five votes.

Mr. Jones made one of his very best speeches. His plain talk was listened to by an interested audience. His discussion of the issues was masterly. There is considerable enthusiasm awakened, and Gloucester will do better than she has done for a long time.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DEDICATED.

Interesting and Impressive Ceremonies at Durham, N. C .- Dedicatory Sermon. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

DURHAM, N. C., October 6, 1839.

The services at the new Presbyterian church on yesterday were of a very interesting and imposing character. The Baptist and Methodist churches held no service to-day, and all united in rejoicing with their Presbyterian friends in the completion of their new house of worship. The Committee on Finance made its report, which showed the cost of the building to be about $14,500. It is a comfortable, convenient, and well-arranged brick edifice, slate roof, lighted with electricity. The seast are placed in a semi-circle, so that all look toward the preacher, who stands in the centre of the amphitheatre. A Sabbath-school room is so constructed that the partition can be thrown open and the audience-room enlarged. Every available space was filled yesterday.

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH.

The pastor, Rev. H. T. Darnell, gave a brief sketch of the origin and growth of the Presbyterian church in Durham. Rev. Thomas N. Fancett (who was present) was the first pastor, and in the early days of this city preached to a small band in the Academy (known as the Masonic Lodge). In 1871 the church was organized with eleven members. They were served by Revs. Drury Lacy. P. H. Dalton, and James H. Fitzgerald. In 1876 a plain edifice was begun, but for some time the congregation worshipped in an unfinished house. The pulpit was made of boxes paled one on the other, and the seats were made of lumber placed on blocks. From these small beginnings the church has grown and prospered until it is now strong and vigorous. Under the present pastorate, which began eleven years ago, an average of twen-Under the present pastorate, which began eleven years ago, an average of twenty-four members per year has been added until the number now reaches 299. During the last decade nineteen have died, and the last decade nineteen have died, and among them were three elders and one deacon. Outside of the expenditures on the new church this small charge has raised for all purposes $22,834, which shows a degree of liberality unprecedent-ed in this community. The Presbyterians of Durham, therefore, have great reason to be thankful that they have prospered, and should take courses and make greater and should take courage and make greater efforts for enlarged usefulness in the cause of Christianity in this city. Reva. J. L. White, of the Baptist Church, and Wil-helm and Faucett, of the Presbyterian Church, occupied seats in the pulpit. DEDICATORY SERMON.

Rev. James Y. Fair, of your city, preached the dedicatory sermon. His text was from the 3d chapter of Acts, a part of the 10th verse: "The Beautiful Gate of the Temple." verse: "The Beautiful Gate of the Temple."
He kept the attention of the large and interested audience for nearly an hour in the elucidation of this text. He so wed that as David decided to build a magnificent temple to the Most High God, so all Christians should erect houses of worship on the most approved style, and adorn and beautify them so as to elevate our minds and inspire our devotions. Education demands costly colleges; pleasure, theatres; suffering, hospitals; benighted heathen, the costliest temples, and why should not Christianity have her beautiful shrines in which to adore her great Creator?

Christians. He admonished his congregation not to trust to the outward building, but to strive after that knowledge

His condition to-day is represented as the blame of the trouble upon Bragg.

PERSONAL NOTES.

General Mahone has returned to the which makes wise unto salvation. Let the voice of eloquence, the strains of sweetest music ring through the arches of our houses of worship, but let them be a means of directing to Christ the lamb slain from the foundation of the world. Nor should we stop here, This power of Christ should be disseminated out of the church and carried to the uttermost parts of the kanowledge of the truth.

The sermon was well received and all the large audience went away feeling it was good to be there.

PERSONAL SOLES.

General Mahone has returned to the city and will be present at the meeting of the Republican District Committee to merrow night.

Mr. E. S. Robinson, a popular young lawver, left for Buena Vista this afternoon with the probable view of locating there. The University School, of which W. G. THE CAMPAIGN.

The Democratic State Executive Committee to-day arranged for a very active canvass in the Eighth congressional district. Senators Vance and Ransom and State-Auditor Sanderlin are there and Solicitor W. H. Bower, of Watanga, and Captain J. W. Todd, of Ashe, will also engage in the campaign. Congressman McClammy also took the field as a speaker to-day. AN ALLIANCE DISPLAY.

Arrangements were to day perfected for a complete display by the Farmers' Al-liance at the State Fair. It will be in the Exposition building and for it there are nany premiums.

For two weeks no tidings have been heard of the son of a prominent Baptist preacher here. The ladwas at Wake-Forest College, but left, and it was thought had come here, whereas his family had no knowledge of his absence from school. It is to-day the belief that the young man has committed suicide, as inquiries made in all directions are fruitless.

Farmers in this section say that cotton is making the largest yield known in many years. The yield is from thirty-eight to forty-two pounds of lint to the 100 pounds of seed cotton.

Mining and sheep-raising are especially flourishing. He makes an earnest appeal for legislation to settle the question of land titles. AN INJUNCTION'S RESULT.

For the first time in many weeks the pastor and congregation of the Third (colored) Baptist church worshipped in undisturbed quiet yesterday. This fact was the result of the injunction granted on Saturday by Judge Bernard of the Husting's Court, restraining the malecontents from further interference in the affairs of the church. It is alleged that these malecontents are in the minority, but the latter claim that they number one half of the trustees and a large and respectable element in the congregation. A DIFFERENCE IN "DRUNES,"

The Mayor had a practical illustration during the session of his court this morning of the difference between an American and a German "drunk." The case under investigation was one of assault, in which the complainant's ear had been cut open by a missile thrown by the letendant. The parties were an Irishman and a German. The complainant during his testimony stated that the defendant German was drunk, and that there is a material difference in a drunk in the old country and one in this. On being asked to explain he said that the American, or Irishman, when he gets drunk as a general thing rolls under it. Cannon Talks of the Saints and the Future State-President Woodruff.

By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Salt Lank City, October 6.—At the Mormon Conference yesterday George Q. Cannon spoke of the lofty conceptions of the saints, and especially regarding the future state. So advanced are the saints' ideas that when other people attempt to follow them they get lost in the magnitude of their precepts. He believed the brethren in the ponitentiary would be more prosperous when they got out than if they had not got in, because they could say they had not broken any of the covenants they had made. He thanked God he lived among such people—those who are not afraid of consequences and took their punishment like heroes. The time is coming when this conduct of the Latter-Day Saints would stand out as the brightest page in modern history. Their sufferings would be acceptable to the Lord.

WILL BOW TO THE NATION'S WILL.

WILL BOW TO THE NATION'S WILL.

Cannon further said the saints would obey the laws and bow in submission to the nation's will and leave the consequences with the Lord. He told the people not to worry about 1891; Christ would not come then.

In the afternoon President Woodraff spoke, He said the Lord was about to prune His vineyard for the last time, and that the sprouts would fall like rain before the mower. He spoke of the martyrdom of Joseph Smith and crucifixiomof Christ, and of events of like import. He endorsed Cannon's remarks and further said that even if it transpired to deprive the saints of their privileges, they would remember the will of God.

Salt Lake, Utag, October 6.—At the gen-

Christ (the Latter Day Saints) this morning the official declaration of President Woodruff forbidding in future any marriages in violation of the laws of the land was read. The audience, numbering 10,000 persons, including apostles and bishops and the leading elders of the Church, by unanimous vote recognized the authority of the President to issue a manifesto, and accepted it as authoritative and binding. George O. Cannon publicly announced his endorsement of the manifesto and his recognition of the supremacy of the laws that had been declared constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The conference also readepted the origi-

THE IRON- AND STEEL-MEN

Visit the Various Points of Interest in and Around Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, October 6.—When the visiting metallurgists and iron-men awoke this morning a drenching downpour of rain was falling, but as most of them spent yesterday quietly resting, they were ready to brave even the discomforts of a stormy American autumn day rather than forego the opportunity of visiting the great industrial establishments of the second greatest manufacturing city in the world. A wide range of choice from which to select has been arranged by the committee having their entertainment in charge, and the only thing that troubled most of the visitors was which they should choose, as each excursion seemed to promise equal instruction and pleasure. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

THEY DIVIDE UP TO VISIT. About two hundred visitors decided to About two hundred visitors decided to go upon an excursion to Phonixville, where they are to be shown through the illust-furnaces and rolling-mills of the Phonix Iron Company, and the works of the Phonix Bridge Company. This party left the Continental Hotel in coaches at 9.30 o'clock for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad depôt at Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets, where they boarded a special train that was in waiting and started on the journey. They will return to this city over the Reading railroad, arriving here at 4 o'clock. To those who went on this excursion the opportunity Camden. Others went down to Cheste and visited the ship-yard of the Delawar-River Ship- and Iron-Works and the Edge more Iron-Works at Wilmington. The ladies of the party who did not make the trip to Phonixville were entertained a luncheon at the ladies' club-house on the grounds of the Germantown Creeket Clugrounds of the Germantown Cricket Club at Manheim.

REPORTS FROM ALL ORFA / RUSINESS

The reception given by the Royal Legion at the Union League Club to-night in bonor of the Comte de Paris was brilliant and splendid. Arrangements were made on a magnificent scale and the adornments were almost unequalled in elaborateness. Tri-colored bunting hid the ceilings and walls, cut and potted flowers and greens were in every room and stairway, and hundreds of red, white, and blue electric flames lighted up the building and peeped from amid banks of palms and ferns. The corridors and rooms were filled with men of note in civil life and of distinction on the battle-field.

At 9 o'clock the Reception Committee of Philadelphia Commandery formed line on each side of the door.way, and a few minutes later the Comtentered with General Gregg, followed by Duc D'Orleans escorted by George W. Childs and the rest of the party. They were welcomed by Samuel B. Huey, and escorted to the library on the second floor where a reception was held. RECEPTION AND BANQUET

A thousand or more guests were presented to the Comte and the Duc D'Orleans. Occasionally in the line the Comte would find some old friend with whom he had bivouaced on the Peninsula or struggled with in the swamps of the Chickahominy. When such a one came along he would grasp his hand in both of his and while he energetically shook them he would say a few pleasant words—reminiscences of old times. The Duc D'Orleans went through the ordeal of hand-shaking for the most part in a perfunctory manner, but whenever he saw his father more than usually pleased in greeting some one his own face
